COMMITTEE TO PLAN DETAILS OF OLD SCHOOL

Mayor Lindsay Brings Harmony In Newport School Matter

Ralph Hamblett, Judge E. J. Smith, Austin Beebe of the school board, and E. A. Hamilton, superintendent of schools, in joint session Monday evening with the City Council, discussed at length the best possible manner of refitting the old school building for the accommodation of the two grades necessary to be cared for at the opening of the fall term.

Mayor Lindsay opened the meeting saying "I believe it possible to accomplish this work with the money at our disposal but first let us know what the requirements are to be. I have here a communication addressed to City Clerk Rufus W. Spear from Wm. T. Slayton of the State Board of Health, which reads as follows:

"A complaint from a responsible resident of Newport has come to this office. That the City of Newport voted to refit an old school building for use for school purposes without having voted sufficient money to make the building sanitary and safe for school purposes.

"I am writing to ask the school board, before any changes are made to submit complete plans and specifications to this office as

NEWPORT JAIL HAS QUOTA OF 18 RESIDENTS

Judge Wright Hears Four Cases In Municipal Court

Judge Wright made a little headway yesterday in disposing of some of the business which comes before Municipal court. Just now Orleans county jail is pretty full, eighteen being the number of residents.

Theon Adams, now living in Claremont, N. H., but a former resident of Newport was charged with non-support. He was ordered to pay $10 a week for the support of his family and was sentenced to not less than one year nor more than two in the House of Correction. The sentence was suspended, so that he might go to work.

Fred Levallee of Lowell was arrested May 12th and charged with operating a still. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $600 bail last Monday. He was represented by Hubert S. Pierce as counsel and when he appeared in municipal court yesterday he pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to not less than three months nor more than one year in the House of Correction at Windsor. Levallee is 42 years old.

Alvah Wheeler, living in New Hampshire was arrested near West Charleston Sunday morning by deputy sheriff Ed. Hamilton and charged with operating a car while intoxicated. He was represented by Smith and Pierce. He pleaded guilty and was given 30 days in the county jail.

Moses Wheeler, his father, who was with him was also arrested and charged with intoxication. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs.

TWO ALIENS HELD BY COURT AT NEWPORT

Paul Klein, a young Roumanian Hebrew, appeared before U. S. Commissioner W. H. Cleary yesterday afternoon charged with coming into the country without inspection, and is held under the Passport Control Act. His bail is fixed at $1000, for his appearance at federal court in September. He has a cousin in New York to whom he will apply for help.

Klein's story is similar to that of many others who wish to get into the United States without being properly vised. He left Roumanian in June, reaching Montreal in July. There he worked and picked up a little English. Last Friday he came to Sherbrooke and there he went to Rock Island on Saturday. It looked easy to step over the line into Uncle Sam's territory and he walked to Newport. He applied for a ticket to New York and upon being told by Agent Lambert that the New York train had gone he bought a ticket for Boston. Lambert notified the immigration officer and Officer Heyckle took him in charge. Klein reads Roumanian and Yiddish. He attended night school in Montreal, and had studied his

SACRAMENTO RENEWS THE DAYS OF '49
SACRAMENTO, May 23—This California capital has been converted today into an old mining camp of the days of '49 in the opening day of the most spectacular celebration ever staged here. Every citizen of the city has a part in the festivities. Men high in civic, commercial and political life began arriving here Monday in stage coaches. Every store front was ramped to show the goods of the day and the girls who generally wear 'em short were attired today in skirts that trailed the ground.

The celebration will last five days and will present many interesting features. Prohibition Director Samuel Rutter has arrived from San Francisco with a strong squad of dry enforcement officers to make certain that those celebrating would not add more realism to the affair by quaffing red liquor which wasn't a crime in the days of '49.

NEGRO TAKEN FROM JAIL BY THE MOB
IRVINGTON, Ga., May 23—A mob of 150 stormed the Wilkinson county jail last night and after a sharp fight in which one of the prison guards and a member of the mob was slightly wounded succeeded in getting James Benson, a negro, convicted of attacking a white woman. They placed rope around the negro's neck and took him away in an automobile. No trace of him has since been found. Benson was convicted of attacking a woman 72 years old.

IRVING, Ga., May 23—Members of the mob according to the guard arrived at the jail at midnight and demanded that Jensen be surrendered. The guards refused and fired a volley with their guns. The men immediately left the jail but at 1:00 A. M. they returned and forced their way into the prison, removed the iron bars of Jensen's cell and hastened away with the frightened and trembling negro.

INSTITUTE BOYS BEAT RIVALS OF LISBON

Two Home Runs Help to Pile Up the Score

For the first time in a number of years, Lyndon Institute handed Lisbon high school a terrific lacing on the latter grounds Saturday by the score of 17 to 5. The Lyndon sluggers worked overtime, gathering a grand total of 17 safe hits, while twirler Charlie Dwyer held the enemy in check with nine scattered bingles.

"Bill" Hall, Lyndon's star all around athlete played a whirlwind game in the field, and hammered out a long home-run. Bean also did the Ruthian act with a terrific four-ply swat in the same place.

Parker, by his covering of the hot corner for Lisbon "proved that he was a third sacker better than the ordinary. Coates, at short, and Noyes, the center gardener, showed up well, the former by his hard hitting and the latter by his covering of his pasture.

Bassett, who covets in left field for Lyndon Institute, had no mercy on the pellet. In six trips to the platter, he hammered four bingles. Dwyer, Roberts, A. Hill, Pierce and Bean all gathered a pair of slams each. The summary:

SUNSET HOME TO RECEIVE BEQUEST

Remembered in the Will of Mrs. Lucy A.
Randall

The will of the late Lucy A. Randall of St. Johnsbury has just been presented for probate. It contains several specific legacies and bequests.

Among the bequests is $200 to the Bowery Mission and Young Men's Home in care of the Christian Herald Bible House, New York City.

The specific legacies amount to about $1700. There is about $3200 in the estate, and the residue of the estate, after paying the legacies, $100 for Mt. Pleasant cemetery for the care of the family lot, and the expense of administration, is bequeathed in the following manner:

"All the rest, and residue of my estate, after all other bills are paid, I give to Sunset Home here in St. Johnsbury."

The will was presented for probate by Gilbert E. Woods of St. Johnsbury, who is named as executor. The date set by Judge Wesley for hearing on the probate of this will is Saturday, June 10.

BIG CREAMERY AT SWANTON IS BANKRUPT

Liabilities Said to Amount to More Than $117,000

One of the biggest bankruptcy cases filed in many months in the United States court is that of the Swanton Co-operative Creamery filed in the clerk's office Monday morning. The liabilities amount to $117,545.21 and the assets to $50,341.45. Hundreds of farmers who are scattered throughout Franklin county are the heaviest losers for their accounts are unsecured.

The assets consist of a building which is considered to be one of the best equipped creameries in the State, an ice house, bills owed to the company of $2,541, machinery valued at $12,000 and an automobile. Everything is heavily mortgaged however.

Charleston Navy Yard Officer Says Lawthorne Was On Duty On Night of Murder

(By the Associated Press)

WINCHESTER, Mass., May 23—Authorities who for a month have been searching for the attacker of Ralph W. Brewster, Boston and Maine station agent here, expressed belief that the murderer had been found in John Lawthorne, a member of the Marine Corps.

Word of his arrest has been received by police officers who went to Quantico, Va., to get him. While on duty at the Charleston navy yard, he is said to have told Charles Tyndall, now a prisoner for larceny at the Charleston street jail, of the robbery.

According to the latter's story Lawthorne told him that he killed Brewster while attempting to rob him. After firing four shots at the ticket agent through an open door, Tyndall's account says, Lawthorne's attempt to rob Brewster was frustrated when the wind blew open the door.

WINCHESTER, Mass., May 23—In the official record of the Boston navy yard the report of the officer of the day shows that John Lawthorne, as he was listed, was on guard on the night of the murder and that from 8:00 to 10:00 he was stationed at the main gate. The Winchester station where the murder was committed was a half hour's ride away.

ANNUAL EXHIBIT AT MT. ST. JOSEPH CONVENT

Parents Inspect Fine Array of Pupils' Handiwork

Mt. St. Joseph convent could hardly hold the influx of parents Sunday and Monday, parents bursting with pride at the exhibition of work done by the pupils of the school. It was the annual exhibit and no finer array of work was ever gathered under a St. Johnsbury roof. Embroideries of all kinds, crocheted lace and doilies of lovely fillet, embroidered and plain, tatting, examples of machine and hand sewing, paintings and pen and pencil work all showing not only careful training but in many instances exceptional talent.

The exhibit is arranged in the
